Advising Remotely
Wondering how to manage your new remote dynamic with student leaders? Gallup® has some great lessons on “how to manage remote employees.” They write from a business perspective that you can use to prepare students for their post college experiences, https://www.gallup.com/workplace/263510/manage-remote-employees.aspx

Career coach and keynote speaker Lindsay Boccardo shares her knowledge on how to manage your work with collegians in our transition to working remotely. This webinar discussed practical ways to coach collegians through this new experience. She addresses the major stressors for you and your students working remotely, identifies what questions you can ask them to help stay connected, and what they will need from you throughout this transition.
